Forsgate Farms Gladioli

Adelina Patti. —Purple. Tall spikes, flower resembling Baron Jos. Hulot, there being more red in its coloring. The spike is taller and stronger than Baron Hulot	$0.30
Albania. —White. One of Kemp's splendid Gladioli. Flowers large, wide open, on tall, well-formed spikes.....	.90
Alice Tiplady. —Soft tones of salmon and copper. A strikingly beautiful Primulinus Hybrid30
America. —Pink. The standard commercial light pink Gladiolus.....	.05
Baby Jane. —Cream White. Primulinus Hybrid . Lower petals with wine red stripes80
Baron Jos. Hulot. —Deep violet blue. In spite of the extensive work done in producing blue hybrids, Baron Hulot is still deserving of the description "the best blue Gladiolus".....	.10
Bertrex. —White. A soft, creamy color, with lilac lines in the throat.....	.15
Buttercup. —Yellow. Primulinus Hybrid . Red stripe on lower petals.....	.05
Candidum. —White, tinted pink. Lily-like flowers. A variety particularly desirable for garden use on account of its prolonged blooming period.....	.05
Chicago White. —White. Early. A good white, with lavender stripes on the lower petals05
Chris. —Maroon. A very dark rich shade. One of the most pleasing dark reds..	.10
Cracker Jack. —Red. A rich and velvety dark red. A very hardy variety.....	.05
Crimson Glow. —A deep, rich, glowing red, with large, well-formed flowers. A favorite with lovers of brilliant colors	.30
Early Snowflake. —White. A creamy tint, with rose feathering. Unusually tall spikes, with immense, lily-like flowers	.40
Europa. —White. Spikes filled with many compactly arranged pure white flowers	.20
Evelyn Kirtland. —Rose pink. Deeper pink at the edges of the petals and a scarlet blotch on the lower petals. Well formed flowers on very tall stalks....	.15
Faith. —Yellow. A Primulinus Hybrid resembling Buttercup , but having larger blooms and purer coloring. Choice..	.60
Glory of Holland. —White. Blooms tinted pink, with lavender stamens. Tall spikes10

GLADIOLI

Gretchen Zang. —Pink. A soft pink, with carmine markings in the throat. Very handsome spikes15
Halley. —Salmon. Large flowers of salmon pink, blotched cream. Early.....	.05
Herada. —Mauve. A clear, bright shade—the best in this color. Good full spike with large flowers.....	.15
L'Immaculee. —White. Flowers pure white, of waxy texture. Excellent...	.15
Liss. —Pink. Apple blossom pink, with many flowers open at a time.....	.08
Louise. —Lavender. Large, wide open flowers of pure lavender. A crimson blotch on the lower petals. Very choice50
Maiden's Blush. —Pink. Enchantress pink Primulinus Hybrid. Stems slender, buds pointed, flowers exquisitely dainty20
Miranda. —Cream. A small flowered Primulinus Hybrid. The coloring of this Gladiolus is very similar to the popular standard Schwaben , but is to be preferred for cutting on account of its slender stems and smaller flowers. Beautiful in combination with the maroon colored Chris10
Moonbeam. —Yellow. A pale, clear yellow. Stalks and flowers large. A very handsome and prolific variety, one bulb producing as many as four bulbs and corresponding spikes of bloom...	.80
Mrs. Dr. Norton. —Cream and pink. Very large, beautifully formed flowers, shaded pink, the coloring deepening toward the edges of the petals, and opening wide to show a pure yellow throat. This Gladiolus never fails to delight and is really unrivalled in both form and coloring.....	.30
Mrs. Francis King. —Flame pink. Large flowers, tall spikes.....	.05
Mrs. Frank Pendleton. —Pink. Bright pink, with crimson blotch on lower petals. A beautiful variety for home garden and also a popular commercial variety10
Mrs. Watt. —Red. A brilliant Gladiolus of a very unusual shade, approximating the color of the American Beauty Rose, but better described as Pomegranate Purple10
Muriel. —Blue. A fine light blue with a deep velvety blotch on the lower petals50

GLADIOLI

Myrtle. —Pink. Very early. Clear rose pink, with light throat; many blooms open at a time.....	.15
Niagara. —Yellow. Deep cream and yellow, with carmine penciling in the throat10

Mixed. —We do not offer mixed or unnamed varieties of Gladiolus Bulbs for sale at retail, except the Primulinus Hybrids as noted above. For those who wish a collection of Gladioli, all different, we will gladly supply a mixture of selected named varieties, giving you the very best value for the money expended. We can make up collections in this way at from $1.00 to $5.00 per dozen.

One Dozen of any variety described above may be bought at The Price of Ten.

CULTURAL DIRECTIONS FOR GLADIOLI

Planting Time.—Gladiolus corms may be planted any time after the ground is open—with the earliest garden planting, if desired. A succession of bloom may be enjoyed, from the middle of July until frost, by planting at intervals from early April until the first of July.

Exposure.—Gladioli like full sunshine. Planting in the open garden gives the best results.

Depth of Planting.—Plant four to six inches deep, according to the character of the soil. In very light, sandy soil, six inches is not too deep, and if planted in long rows in the vegetable garden, they may be ridged, after they are well up, thus giving support to the stalks. In the heavier clay soils, more shallow planting is to be preferred.

Distance Apart.—Four inches apart gives room enough for good development.

Soil.—Any good garden soil produces good results. The lighter, well-drained soils are best. If you are planting especially for cutting, growing in rows in the vegetable garden and cultivating at the same time and in the same way as the vegetables, gives particularly satisfactory results.

Fertilizers.—Moderate application of stable manure, potato fertilizer, or bone meal will give good results. If stable manure is used, it should be applied in the fall before planting, and should be well rotted. It must not be allowed to come in direct contact with the bulbs.

GLADIOLI

Care.—Keep free from weeds and well cultivated. It is usually not necessary to stake, if the bulbs are planted deep and the stalks ridged up a bit for support. If much exposed to wind, it is well to stake choice varieties, for the growth of the flower stalk is seriously impaired by being blown over.

Cutting.—The best time to cut is when the first blooms are opening. In cutting, be careful not to remove all the foliage, as the leaves are needed for the proper development of the bulbs. By picking off the faded blooms at the base and cutting the ends of the stems, bouquets of gladioli may be kept for a week or longer in enjoyable condition.

Digging.—Dig in the fall, any time after the browning of the foliage shows that growth has been completed. All bulbs should be dug and stored before the ground freezes. If the soil is wet at digging time or if the foliage is still rather green, tie up in bunches and hang to dry in an airy place, before cutting off tops and giving final storage. If ground is fairly dry when digging, the bulbs may be dried off in a few hours, letting them lie on the ground where dug, tops may be cut off, and the bulbs stored.

Storage.—Store in a dry cool cellar. A temperature of 40 to 50 degrees is very good. Use shallow trays with wire bottoms, open baskets, or well ventilated boxes.

CULTURAL DIRECTIONS FOR DAHLIAS

Planting Time.—Any time from May first to July first.

Exposure.—The open garden is suitable for dahlias. Avoid the south side of a building, with very hot sun and little air circulation.

Depth of Planting.—Plant about six inches deep,
being careful to lay the bulb on its side—
never stand it up on end.

Distance Apart.—This is a matter of choice, according to the way you mean to grow the dahlias. If training to one stalk and tying to a stake, two feet apart will do. If you allow the stalks to develop as they grow naturally, without pruning, at least three feet between plants is needed.

Soil.—Dahlias like best a light soil and whether the soil is light or heavy, it must be well drained. Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon drainage. If your garden has a heavy clay loam soil and a clay sub-soil, light H₂ with sand or coal ashes. One part of sand or ashes to one part of soil will not lighten the soil too much.

DAHLIAS

Fertilizers.—Stable manure may be used with good results, if it is applied broadcast (the fall before, if possible), and well incorporated with the soil. A potato fertilizer gives good results and pulverized sheep manure is excellent. This may be applied at planting, or may be put on after the plants are up, by making a drill on each side of the bulb, about four inches away from it, and putting the fertilizer in the drill—a good handful of potato fertilizer, or about a pint of sheep manure.

Care.—Keep free from weeds and well cultivated. Tie to stakes if the plants need it, to keep from breaking down. Prune to one or two stalks to a hill. If you can water your Dahlias, it will pay you richly, especially when the bloom is beginning. But if you water at all, water thoroughly. Pull the soil into a basin shape around the plant and pour in three or four pailfuls of water. This, done once a week, will do real good. A little sprinkle each day is worse than useless.

Remove all weak or defective buds and do not allow many flowers to develop on a stalk.

Cutting.—Generous cutting is a good way to disbud and get pleasure from the blooms at the same time. When cutting, cut the stem below one or two joints, thus getting foliage and buds for decoration. Plunging the ends of the stems in boiling water for two or three minutes before placing in cold water, will help to keep the flowers fresh.

Digging and Storage.—After the first frost, lift the bulbs, dry off for a few hours in the air, store the clumps with the tops down, so that the watery substance in the stalk may run out. If you have a cement floor to the cellar and furnace heat, the containers for storage must be lined with paper and the bulbs covered, in order to prevent too much circulation of warm, dry air, with its accompanying drying action on the bulbs. A temperature of 35 to 45 degrees is best. A cellar which keeps potatoes in good condition, without sprouting or shriveling, is right for dahlias.

WASHINGTON ASPARAGUS ROOTS

This rust-resistant, giant, high-yielding strain of Asparagus was developed through a ten years selection experiment under the direction of the Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, carried on at the Prescott Farm, Concord, Mass., where seed and roots are now being grown under the direct supervision of George A. Prescott.

If you wish to buy WASHINGTON ASPARAGUS ROOTS, order at once, for delivery in April only.

One-year-old roots at the following prices:

One Dozen	$.50
50	1.50
100	2.75
1,000	17.50

500 or more at the thousand rate; orders for 2,000 or over receive a discount of 10%; orders of 5,000 or more receive a discount of 20% from the 1,000 price.

Seed and roots are also grown under expert supervision by The Coker Pedigreed Seed Co., Hartsville, S. C.

GRAPES

We have been growing for several years practically all of the varieties of grapes recommended for this section—and a number not recommended, just to try them out and to be able to know for our own and for your information which are the most satisfactory for our use. The things we have learned are of particular value for those who wish to grow grapes for their home use near this locality or in similar situations.

If you are growing something unusually good, let us know. We are interested. We like, too, to hear of the location of especially good wild vines. Or, if you wish to choose something for your own use, come to visit our test vineyard in August or September.

NUT TREES

Our NUT ORCHARD is planted with carefully selected trees of English Walnuts, Pecans, Black Walnuts, Shag Bark Hickories, Heart Nuts

NUT TREES

(Japanese Walnuts), Butternuts, Filberts, and American Hazel Nuts.

The first planting was made late in November, 1918. In 1921, we had in bearing one English Walnut (Franquette, fertilized by a native Black Walnut) and one Hazel Nut. In 1922, we added to the list Heart Nuts, and the Filberts were in good bearing.

We do not know of any long-lived tree which would produce more interesting results in four years and give so much promise for the future.

We are glad to give information in regard to Nut Growing in the North and while we have at present no stock to sell, we would gladly purchase on your order from the most reliable nurserymen.

If you are interested in Nut Growing, why not join the NORTHERN NUT GROWERS ASSOCIATION? Dues $2.00 per year; $3.25 per year, including subscription to the American Nut Journal.

Treasurer, Willard G. Bixby, Baldwin, N. Y.

CHINESE DWARF LEMON TREES

CITRUS LIMONIA—LEMON—was collected by F. N. Meyer, Agricultural Explorer, at Feng-tai, near Peking. Cultivated by the Chinese as a decorative plant, this Lemon deserves a place among our house plants. It grows well out-of-doors during our summers, and there are very few days in the winter and spring in which it is not filled with blossoms or fruit or both. The fruit is of good flavor, as well as being decorative, and the little tree begins to bear fruit when only a small pot plant.

CORNELL CAFETERIA

The first CORNELL CAFETERIA at Newark, N. J., was opened in November, 1921, under the management of Grace L. Bennett, Cornell, 1911.

The second CAFETERIA was opened February, 1923, at 19 Clinton St., Newark, N. J.

The CAFETERIAS are co-operating with Forsgate Farms (G. D. Brill, Supt., Jamesburg, N. J.) in an effort to get strictly fresh food to city people and to thereby work out a direct-to-the-consumer method of marketing farm products.

At the Sales Table at the CAFETERIAS may be found Fresh Eggs, Honey and various Farm Products for sale.

Orders may be left at any time for Cut Flowers, Gladiolus and Dahlia Bulbs, Canned Goods, Jellies, Jams or other Farm Products.
